LOWEST INFANT MORTALITY IN CITY'S HISTORY; ALSO A LOW DEATH RATE

Health Officer Johnston Submits Annual Report to Health Board of Year's Work—Death Rate Lowest in Ten Years—Work Accomplished in 1920.

Dr. Frank A. Johnston, city health officer, Tuesday evening filed his annual report of the year's health conditions in Kingston with the board of health. He congratulates the board on the lowest death rate 13.8, in the city in the past ten years, and on the lowest infant mortality rate, 69, in the history of the city.

Dr. Johnston's report and the reports of the other officers of the board for the year are as follows:

Annual Report of Health Officer.

An inspection of the records of communicable diseases for the year 1920 shows 1475 cases reported, as compared with 811 during 1919, the increase being due almost exclusively to the epidemic of measles in January and February, and also due in part to pneumonia being included in reportable diseases in 1920 and not in 1919.

Diphtheria.—The decrease in the number of diphtheria cases from 126 during 1919 to 33 in 1920 was most satisfactory, considering the number of diphtheria carriers resulting from the epidemic of the previous year. This number would have been materially lessened if we had facilities for isolation in a small hospital.

Typhoid Fever.—Although fourteen cases of typhoid were reported during 1920, only seven cases are chargeable to this city, one case, being a non-resident brought to the city for hospital treatment and six others having been infected from sources outside the city limits, principally from drinking contaminated water from the Rondout creek and Hudson river. When it is considered that this city has been charged with an average of thirty-two cases yearly for the ten years preceding 1918, the record of the last two years should be a source of pride to the board of health. Since the milk has been the source of infection in previous years, the value of our monthly milk reports is self evident.

Measles.—The city was visited by an epidemic of measles during the early months of 1920, but no deaths resulted therefrom. Considering the number of cases, 673, this was very gratifying.

Tuberculosis.—There were 95 cases of tuberculosis reported during 1920, as against 130 in 1919. There is an evidence of greater co-operation between the State Charities, aid nurse and the health officer but satisfactory work cannot be done under the present methods. In this connection it might be remarked that there are five physicians and five nurses engaged in public health work in this city, and with one exception, they are under separate authorities. More advantage should be taken of the excellent facilities at Raybrook sanitarium for early and incipient cases of tuberculosis.

Deaths.—The deaths from communicable diseases totaled only 93 as compared with 103 during 1919. The deaths from the acute preventable diseases were only six, being four from diphtheria (one non-resident) and two from typhoid, a most excellent record.

Child Welfare.—The work of this branch of the board of health was of four months' duration, under the direction of Dr. Ebbas Dedecr and a trained nurse. The infant mortality rate for the past year was 69, which is the lowest we have ever attained in this city. The clinic has undoubtedly been responsible for greater interest in this work, but the increased care in the handling of milk and better quality of milk delivered in this city due to the publication of the milk report has been a prime factor in this excellent record.

General Clinic.—There were 23 cases with 37 treatments at this general clinic during 1920. This was a considerable increase over the previous year, although a great number of cases have been non-resident. This clinic is gradually becoming of value proportionate to the expense involved.

Milk Inspection.—The quality of milk delivered in Kingston has been improved greatly since the first monthly milk analysis. The low infant mortality rate is the result which speaks most loudly for this work. The average bacteria count of all deliveries in December, 1919, was 84,400 which compared with an average count of 22,999 in November, 1920, is an encouraging testimony. It is unfortunate that the figures for December, 1920, were not available, but no doubt exceeds the bacterium count, and only one dealer is below the permitted fat percentage for the dairy average.

The board of health is to be congratulated.

First.—On the lowest death rate, 13.8, in the city of Kingston in the past ten years.

Second.—On the lowest infant mortality rate, 69, in the history of the city.

Third.—On the greatly increased number of cases given to the city health officers by the State Charities.

Fourth.—On the ability to stream with the above and prevent so many deaths in the hospital.

HEALTH BOARD LACKED QUORUM

So Regular Monthly Meeting Was Not Held Tuesday, but Officers Filed Their Reports—There Were 46 Cases of Mumps in December.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of health was not held Tuesday evening as there was not a quorum present of the members of the board. The reports of the officers, however, were filed with Secretary Safford. The annual report of the health officer, showing that Kingston had the lowest death rate in years last year, will be found elsewhere.

There were seven cases of diphtheria, 46 cases of mumps, 1 case of scarlet fever, one of chickenpox, 14 of whooping cough and one of pneumonia reported in Kingston during December. There were 37 births reported that month, and 35 deaths. The death of three non-residents was also reported, making the total number of deaths in Kingston last month 38, which showed a decrease of 4 in births and a decrease of 11 in deaths over the corresponding month of 1919.

EPISCOPAL MONK QUILTS MONASTERY

The Rev. Father Harvey Officer, Leaves West Park—Expects To Be Deposed As Clergyman.

The Rev. Father Harvey Officer, who was considered the star preacher of the Holy Cross Monastery at West Park, has left that order and it is even rumored that he has quit the communion for good and intends to adopt a secular pursuit.

The Order of the Holy Cross is a communion of the Protestant Episcopal Church at West Park, where all the Holy Cross monks are addressed as "Father." There are sixteen in the monastery at West Park who conduct preaching missions in churches in neighboring dioceses and hold missions in the high Episcopal churches similar to those held in the Roman Catholic Churches with Jesuit and Paulist fathers as the priest. The Holy Cross fathers belong to the "high church" or "Catholic party" of the Episcopal Church and take vows of obedience, poverty and celibacy.

Father Officer has told friends that he expects to ask to be deposed as a clergyman. It is said that his views as to theology and socialism are not in entire accord with those of his fellow monks and this is believed to be partly responsible for his step.

Another matter which is reported to have caused friction at the monastery is an organization, recently formed, called "The League of the Blessed Virgin." Father Officer is said to have felt that this bordered too much on the Roman Catholic. Among the objects of this league were to say the rosary at least once a week and the angelus daily. There has been a great deal of friction between the two factions of the church, high and low, over this league. "The Chronicle," the official organ of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of which Dr. Alexander Griswold Cummings is editor, has taken a decided stand against such a league.

Had No Electrical Suits.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 12.—A printed report that the lives of the three American balloonists had been saved by electrically heated suits was denied today by Lieutenant Farrell, one of the members of the party. "We did not wear electrically heated suits because we did not consider a flight into the north and did not think we would need them," said Farrell. "We left them behind at Rockaway."

Child Communion.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Delaware, Jan. 12.—Joe Grischick, aged 3, died today his parents by playing outdoors and getting his feet wet, so the father administered a spanking. The child left the room and a moment later a shot was heard in the kitchen. The parents rushed into the room to find the child dead on the floor with a bullet through his head.

YOUTHFUL AUTO THIEVES IN COURT

Sentence Suspended in Cases of Clayton and Hyatt—Barner, Prederrick and Furmanus Admit Guilt But Matter Goes Over Until Monday—Ask That Delano's Trial Go Over Term.

The tender years of local automobile thieves is being taken into consideration by County Judge Joseph M. Fowler, who suspended the execution of sentence on two boys who pleaded guilty before him in county court this morning.

William Harry Clayton and Harry Hyatt, who stole George Freer's automobile from in front of the residence of Dr. Morton Lown on October 13 and drove to a dance at Saugerties, where the car was recovered later in the evening, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging them with grand larceny in the second degree. They were not represented by counsel. George Delano was indicted jointly with them but has pleaded not guilty.

The two boys were sworn and asked the usual questions. Clayton said he was a student at Spencer's Business School, 18 years old, was born and lived in Philadelphia, can read and write, is unmarried, his parents are living, habits are temperate, had not been before convicted and had had opportunities for religious instruction in the Methodist denomination.

Hyatt said he was helper in a baker's shop, 16 years old, was born and lived in Kingston, can read and write, unmarried, parents are living, habits are temperate, had not been before convicted and had had opportunities for religious instruction in the Episcopal denomination.

Judge Fowler said to them: "I have already talked to you boys. You know how I feel about this matter and you understand now just what a serious situation you are in. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the state reformatory at Elmira until discharged according to law, but execution of sentence is suspended during your good behavior. You are paroled in the custody of the sheriff of Ulster county, to whom you will report once a month, and of the Rev. Putnam Cady, to whom you will report once a week. The execution of this sentence will depend entirely on how you behave in the future."

Others Own To Guilty.

Albert Burzee, John Frederick and Gordon Furmanus, who stole an automobile belonging to William Van Kleeck of Rifton from North Front street on December 11, and who were caught by New York Water Board Police while driving the car on the Ashokan boulevard, were represented by Francis C. Merritt, who said the boys were willing to plead guilty to a charge of petit larceny. Raymond Ryan, who was indicted jointly with them, has entered a plea of not guilty.

Mr. Merritt asked that the court show the utmost leniency to the boys. They had been engaged in a boyish prank, he said, which had not resulted in damage of any kind. There had been a bunch of boys together who had taken a joy ride in an automobile without any intention of harming anybody and without realizing the seriousness of what they were doing. Now, however, they realize what a serious matter it was and their parents appeared also to realize it.

District Attorney Traver said he had not consented and would not consent to pleas of guilty of petit larceny except in the case of the one boy who was under fifteen years of age, and in that case the People would accept a plea of guilty of juvenile delinquency.

Judge Fowler discussed the case with District Attorney Traver and Mr. Merritt and announced that the matter would be held over until next Monday.

Want Trials Put Off.

William D. Brinlier, Jr., appeared for George Delano, who was indicted jointly with Clayton and Hyatt, and asked that the case be put over to the March term of court because this was the first term of court after his indictment and it was not customary to try cases at the same term where a defendant entered his plea. It was unjust, he said, to force the case for trial in two days.

District Attorney Traver in reply said it was absurd to think of any defendant being forced to trial in two days, after indictment that it never had been done here and was not being done now. The practice had always been to try cases at the first term after indictment, if not at the same term, unless sufficient reason was shown for postponement, but in cases where preliminary examination had not been held, the trial was sometimes postponed to the following term. The defendant had been arraigned on Monday, and the case was not to be moved for trial until next Monday.

Mr. Brinlier said his father was connected in the case but had gone to the Isle of Thorns. He would consult with Mayor Caspary and bring up the matter again on Monday.

KLOOR'S WORDS SUPPORT FARRELL

Leader of Party Says There Was No Talk of Throat Cutting—Hinton Denies Writing Letters Defaming Farrell Before Latter Smashed Him in Jan—Farrell, Coolest of Lot, Tells of Trip—Due in New York Tomorrow.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 12.—A long night's sleep and a hearty breakfast restored the American balloonists to normal condition today and all declared that they were ready to begin the last lap of their journey home. There was still ill-feeling between Lieutenant Stephen Farrell and Lieutenant Walter Hinton over the latter's letter that Farrell had weakened and wanted to commit suicide so that the others might eat the flesh of his body as a last resort. However, the men did not come to blows as they did Tuesday afternoon when Farrell first learned what Hinton had said in his letter.

The nerves of all three men were taut when they arrived here after 29 days of adventure since leaving the Rockaway, N. Y., naval air station. They are in good health but overwrought. Considering the fact that they had just passed through a nightmare of danger in the northern woods and had just ended a 15 day trip down a perilous trail from the Hudson Bay Trading Post at Moose Factory, they were in good condition.

The men planned to leave Mattice this afternoon, reaching New York tomorrow night or Friday morning. The plans of the people of this part of Ontario to receive the American fliers were marred somewhat by the hostility existing between Farrell and Hinton. Farrell told friends that he felt that Hinton had slandered him in his letter. Whether Farrell will demand an official investigation by the navy department is not yet known.

The men all agreed that they had just passed through the supreme adventure of their lives.

"The NC-4 adventure was a picnic compared with this," said Hinton. (Hinton referred to the scaplane flight to the Azores, conducted by the United States Navy. He was a member of the crew of the seaplane NC-4.)

The American Lieutenant added: "I would rather cross the Atlantic Ocean on a seaplane five times over than make another balloon voyage like the one we just finished. It was not so bad while we were traveling north although it gives one a nervous feeling to be lost in the sky. Our troubles began when we landed on December 14 and found ourselves in a trackless wilderness."

"Believe me, a lot has happened in the past few weeks," said Lieutenant Kloor, with a grin on his boyish face. "I can smile at it all now that we are back in civilization and among automobiles, railway lines and telegraphs and telephones. But it was no laughing matter when we were wandering about in the snow in the James Bay country. I thought I had had some adventures before but they did not amount to anything."

"For instance, I fell into New York Bay from the navy dirigible C-19 during the International yacht race last summer and at that time I thought that was a thriller, but it looks mighty tame now."

Aggressive, square-jawed Farrell showed the least excitement over the adventure. After he had knocked Hinton down with a smashing right to the jaw and had cooled off, he talked with the correspondents.

"The only purpose of the flight was to make an experimental 'hop,'" said he. "The flight was only authorized. We expected to land the following morning and did not take much food. All we had was about eight or ten sandwiches and two thermos bottles filled with hot coffee. We took along bags for our uniforms and wore our ordinary flying clothes. None of us had electrically heated suits with us. We did not think they would be needed; consequently we left them behind. We had four carrier pigeons when we started but one of them was released while passing over New York city."

"We did not have any drinking water with us, but in the cold and moisture of the sky we did not get very thirsty."

"Kloor wanted to make a long flight. Although I was the senior officer in the party he was in charge of the party. He passed up earlier opportunities to land and we kept on going until we had traversed all of New York state and the Canadian province of Ontario. We only had a Quebec Central railway map to guide us over Canada. During the night of the thirteenth it started to rain and the wind blew a gale. Then it grew very cold. It was Hinton's first balloon flight, but he felt all right. Kloor was enthusiastic over the speed we were making and it is no wonder we were so tired for we were traveling in the teeth of a gale. We were among the clouds traveling west when we finally landed on the shore of James Bay. The sun was shining but it was bitter cold and everything was covered with snow and ice. I know the rest of our adventure is pretty well known by this time."

The Canadian fliers who dearly love a good camp are still talking about the drinking that Farrell and Hinton had indulged in after their trip. It was a dramatic moment.

Kloor was the first to arrive. He walked into town along the Mission street on a dog sled and was greeted with cheers mingled with the

WIPING OUT G. O. P. DEFICIT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Marion, O., Jan. 12.—William Boyce Thompson, of New York, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Republican national committee, took up today with Senator Harding the question of wiping out the deficit with which the committee concluded the campaign.

Colonel Thompson, it is understood, reported to the president-elect the result of the appeal for individual contributions to cover the $1,600,000 shortage.

Cabinet appointments were also exhaustively discussed by Colonel Thompson and the next president, it is reported. Each day brings to Senator Harding a flood of recommendations and protests for and against certain candidates. These cross currents now are centering around the departments of the treasury, agriculture and interior. Colonel Thompson himself has been urged by his friends as a possibility for the treasury portfolio. He is known also to be deeply interested in the selection of a secretary of the interior as he has large western interests.

Thompson has always been a strong admirer of Will H. Hays, regarded as the leading candidate for postmaster general and it is understood he took this occasion to advocate Hays's appointment.

Annual "X" Auxiliary Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will be held on Friday of the week at 3 o'clock at the Association building. Following the election of officers an especially delightful program has been arranged which will include vocal selections by Mrs. Arthur Wicks, violin selections by Mrs. Florence Cumberly, and refreshments will be served. If there is time the members of the auxiliary who are expected to be out in full force will be shown some of the very interesting educational moving pictures.

Cohoes Elks To Build.

Trustees of Cohoes Lodge of Elks have been authorized to buy the property formerly owned by Andrew Root, at Onondaga and Mohawk streets, Cohoes. It is understood the price agreed on is $16,000. The trustees will have plans for a clubhouse drawn and it is expected construction will be started early in the spring. The new clubhouse will mean an investment of nearly $100,000.

Helps of numerous packs of dogs. Hinton came next and Farrell last. "I feel fine but I want to get at a fire," said Kloor. He went into the railway station and afterwards went to the private car of W. B. Way, superintendent of the Canadian National Railway. Hinton also went to the private car immediately after his arrival. Farrell's arrival was delayed because he was traveling with the Indian bringing the mails from Moose Factory and it was a tremendous load. Farrell went to the home of B. P. Williamson, a clerk in the service of the Hudson Bay Company.

The correspondents asked Farrell if he offered to commit suicide.

"Where did you get that?" demanded the first. When Farrell learned what Hinton had written in his letter his cheeks flushed and his eyes sparkled with anger. Just at this psychological moment, Hinton entered Williamson's home with orders from Washington not to talk to newspapermen.

"What about those letters?" asked Farrell.

"I didn't write any," countered Hinton.

"You didn't?" shouted Farrell, losing control of himself.

"Well a minute. Let's talk this thing over," said Hinton.

"I've had enough of you!" said Farrell, leaving from his chair and squaring himself for a punch.

It was plain enough that Hinton did not want a fight and it was equally plain that his attitude was making Farrell another man.

As the correspondence was going on the words passed between the men which were not overheard. Farrell seemed instead of being put to the test and Hinton appeared helped him to a chair. Hinton had made an error in going up over his head. He was a good deal better. It was a dramatic moment.

Public Service Commission Order Provides 10 Cents a Thousand Penalty for Those Who Don't Pay Promptly and Extra Charge of 50 Cents per Month for Use of Meter—Schedule Ranges Down to $1.25 for Over 100,000 Feet.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Jan. 12.—The Public Service Commission, Second District, has authorized the Kingston (N. Y.), Gas & Electric Company to make effective on not less than three days' notice and for a period of six months and thereafter until otherwise ordered by the Commission, a monthly service or readiness to serve charges of 50 cents a customer and these commodity rates for gas consumed:

First 5,000 cubic feet, $1.70 a thousand cubic feet.
Next 5,000 cubic feet, $1.65 a thousand cubic feet.
Next 10,000 cubic feet, $1.60 a thousand cubic feet.
Next 20,000 cubic feet, $1.55 a thousand cubic feet.
Next 30,000 cubic feet, $1.50 a thousand cubic feet.
Next 30,000 cubic feet, $1.45 a thousand cubic feet.
Over 100,000 cubic feet, $1.35 a thousand cubic feet.

A prompt payment discount of 10 cents a thousand cubic feet is also provided.

The company filed a schedule calling for a rate of $1.95 a thousand cubic feet for the first 5,000 cubic feet, diminishing by steps to $1.60 a thousand for all gas consumed over 100,000 cubic feet, a prompt payment discount of 5 cents a thousand cubic feet, and a service charge of 50 cents a month a meter. Under rates now in force the company charges $1.25 a thousand cubic feet for the first 5,000 cubic feet with a discount of ten cents a thousand for prompt payment with diminishing steps, with an annual minimum charge of $6 a customer.

As was the case with the trolley fare decision, The Freeman has the news before the gas company itself. The local officials, of course, are not willing to comment until they have received and carefully read the order, nor can they say when it will be put into effect.

Justice Voss Grants Judgment for $167.73.

The case of Samuel Goldman of Pine Hill as plaintiff against Eugene Grossman was tried before Justice Voss at Phenicia Tuesday afternoon. The plaintiff claimed $150 balance due for rent of a furnished boarding house. The defendant's answer was a breach of the lease in that plaintiff had not made promised repairs and improvements, and also that the plaintiff did not own the property. At the close of the evidence, the court granted a judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $167.73, the amount claimed with costs. The plaintiff was represented by Milton O. Auchmoody of this city.

$15,000,000 Great Lakes and Atlantic Transit Co., Inc., Will Begin Operating on State System Next Season—Can Handle Million Tons Annually

Although this world-famous and most important inland waterway was nearly fifteen years in building, and cost the people of New Orleans a state-ward of $150,000,000 for main line, branches and terminals it has never had an adequate fleet of steamers and barge to handle even a fair percentage of the traffic offered. Constructed for the announced purpose of saving shippers money in carrying charges, and expected to be of particular advantage to the many thousands of business men who originate tonnage along its 416 miles of main channel and branches, the great canal was not completed until the period of the world war.

Then it was commandeered by the Emergency Fleet Corporation. The government built a small fleet of modern boats and operated it in conjunction with such of the old types as were still serviceable. This was hardly sufficient, however, to take care of through grain shipments and other war tonnage and commercial interests were forced to pay the higher rail rates.

Private Enterprise Shut Out. Naturally no private shipping enterprise could afford to compete with the government on the canal. As a result the total 1919 traffic on this wonderful waterway was but 1,233,544 tons—5,000,000 tons less than the traffic of 1914, and less than the traffic of 1861, which was more than the annual tonnage from the latter date to the period of reconstruction, which began in 1903.

The canal system can easily handle 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 tons per season, according to Captain Manney, and he is convinced that this tonnage will be offered by shippers as rapidly as his company can build and equip the necessary boats to handle it. The captain says that the Great Lakes & Atlantic Transit Company, Inc., will start the coming season with about twenty steamers, each of burning 200 tons of coal and carrying 350-ton steel barges. This initial carrying capacity of more than a million tons annually will be increased as rapidly as shipbuilding facilities will permit.

Through its close association with shipyards and steamship companies the new organization is practically a complete unit in the construction, equipment, maintenance and operation of a system.

Captain Massey is a man of high reputation in shipping circles, being the organizer and founder of the Globe Shipbuilding Company of Superior, Wis. which was commandeered by the Emergency Fleet Corporation; he enlarged its facilities, and, in record time, constructed and delivered twenty-three 4,000 to 4,200-ton vessels, receiving therefor the personal commendation of Mr. Schwab, then a director of the shipping board.

New York and Western Capital.
 Captain Masser also is president of the Massey Steamship Company, which operates boats on the Great Lakes and the Atlantic seaboard. Associated with him in the $15,000,000 enterprise for operating on the canal system are some of the largest shippers along the line of this great waterway, together with well-known financial interests of New York, Chicago and Duluth. It is the purpose of the Great Lakes & Atlantic Transit Company, Inc., to carry freight at 20 per cent or more below established railroad rates on all classes of commodities.

Since the company has no right of way to purchase, no roadbed to build or maintain, no car shops, round-houses, stations or terminals to construct, and no large overhead expenses to charge off against profits, net revenues per ton should be considerable more—even at the lower rate—than the railroads are now earning. The increase in rail freight rates is a very favorable factor to a company operating on the canal, and Captain Massey is convinced that his organization will be offered as large

The state of New York has spent millions in the construction of necessary landings, docks, warehouses and grain elevators along the canal system. The latest of these, a huge elevator on Gowanus Bay, Brooklyn, is now under construction. These terminal facilities, together with the entire canal system—the greatest and commercially the most important inland water transportation line in the world—are for the free and unrestricted use of shippers. The Great Lakes & Atlantic Transit Company has, with a man of the caliber of Massey's experience and ability at the head, seems bound to profit greatly by its foresight in making it possible for the people of New York to use the great system for which they have been so heavily taxed for years.

More freight originates along the banks of the canal today than ever before in its history, and it traverses the most prosperous, most progressive and most populous territory of equal area in the world.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or 1c and 2c stamps by Catalogue Notice.

Send 13c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1930-1931 catalogue, containing 650 designs of Ladies', Misses and Childrens Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various, simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

LOW'S CORNERS.
Low's Corners, Jan. 11.—The Willing Workers held their annual meeting at Mrs. Abram Low's on January 5 for the purpose of electing new officers for the ensuing year.
Mrs. Will Carille who has been ill for some time is gaining slowly.
Mrs. Melissa Cunn of Belmont is visiting her sister, Mrs. Rance Quick.
James Smith is spending some time in Middletown.
Extra Krom is doing quite a business sawing wood in this vicinity.
Graville Quick and family spent Saturday evening at Lee Dayton's.
Mrs. Pierce Moore is caring for Mrs. Will Carille.

George Kornright was a caller in last Sunday last at W. H. Donovan's. They were treated to a cozy dinner.

An Ancient Forest.
The historical associations connected with the forest of Vallumbroon are very interesting. It was founded in the Twelfth century and given its name with Monte Trinitatis.

name "Shaded Valley," by Saint Giovanni Gasparis, says Nelson Quinhardt Brown in the American Forestry Magazine. It was founded as a monastery and retreat for one of the Benedictine order of monks, and from its early inception the monks took great pride in caring for, cultivating and engineering the forests.

Coffee-

The Healthful Drink!

There is something in the very fragrance of good coffee that is healthful. It brings comfort to the sick room, gives zest to the daily meal, clears the tired brain, revives fatigued muscles. Coffee is more than a beverage—it serves both as food and drink.

True connoisseurs of good, wholesome coffee give REYNOLDS RELIANCE COFFEE their unqualified approval. It is a delicious blend of mellowed coffees, scientifically roasted and ground by a special process that removes the bitter chaff. RELIANCE is a wholesome, digestible, healthful coffee that cannot endanger the health.

Remember to ask for RELIANCE.
It is always fresh at your grocer's—guaranteed to please or your money back. The Wm. T. Reynolds Co.,
Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Pertinent Facts—Doctor Valentine Nalpas, of the Faculty of Medicine, of Paris, says: "Coffee vitalizes the muscles, animates the circulation, facilitates digestion and makes intellectual work more easy."

Every Young Girl's Ambition —to Make a Perfect Pie

Those Interested Should Read This Carefully and Understand the Art of Pie Making

SOME people say that the making of flaky, delicate and easily digested pie crust "is an art."

Perhaps it used to be. To-day even the inexperienced girl can make the finest pie crust. Only two things are necessary. A good recipe—which is given here. And Mazola—which is sold by all grocers.

Mazola is so readily adapted to pie crust making that even those who first try it are assured of flaky, tender crusts.

The liquid form of Mazola, the fact that it is 100% pure, highest grade vegetable oil, is in a large way responsible for the satisfactory results. Crusts are too tough or too short in many cases. This is due to the inaccurate measuring bound to occur when hard fats are used.

Equal to Butler at Half the Price—Better Than Lord

And, quite as interesting as the perfect results, is the economy of Masola.

You use $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{3}$ less Mazola than of lard or other fat. Because Mazola contains no

THE R-G-R PRE-INVENTORY SALE

IS NOW ON

Everybody seems to realize that R-G-R values are Big Values. We went into the market just at the ebb and got the choicest bargains that we've seen in many a year. In many instances prices have since advanced.

WE ARE OFFERING THESE PURCHASES ON THE BASIS OF THESE LOW FIGURES. IF YOU WANT TO GET IN RIGHT

ANOTHER BIG BASEMENT SALE

BEGINNING FRIDAY

ON SIX LARGE TABLES IN OUR BASEMENT

We have arranged all the merchandise from every section of the store that is a year or more old. We want to say good bye to it.

We have priced every item so low that we won't have to put it back in its department. The prices are certainly ridiculous and ordinarily would seem foolish.

BUT THE R-G-R WAY IS TO KEEP STOCKS CLEAN

We pride ourselves on having no old stock

AND THIS IS THE WAY WE DO IT

It's certainly lots of fun as well as very profitable to buy Ladies' Vests at 19c that were 79c, Children's Gloves that were 59c for 19c, and other bargains equally as attractive.

Caught in Fishing Grounds of Portage River in Ohio.

SENT TO NEW YORK MARKETS

Strange Migration May Be Result of Big Floods of 1913—Hauls of From a Ton to a Half at a Time Have Been Reported by Fishermen Who Have Their Seine Grounds for Carp Fishing—Not the Glass Bowl Fish.

Many tons of gold fish have been caught in the fishing grounds of the Portage river at Port Clinton, O., by local fishermen, during the last few weeks. Where these fish come from is a mystery, although they have been seen in this section before, but never in such large quantities.

According to some of the fishermen the scattering of the fish was found in 1917, after the big floods of Ohio and the lake regions, and it was thought at that time that the fish may have been liberated from some of the park and resort aquariums, by the overflowing of the flooded artificial ponds.

The first fish were found in small numbers at intervals by the fishermen who had their nets in Lake Erie, and an occasional one would be brought ashore as a curiosity. Later the fish found their way to the marshes and inland waters of the fishing grounds of the Portage river, and it has been only during the last few months that they have been caught in such large quantities.

Hauls of from a ton to a half and a half have been reported at a single time by the fishermen who have their seine grounds for carp fishing, and these fish have appeared in large schools, making a very interesting sight when they are being rounded up for the lifting of the nets.

Not Glass Bowl Fish. The fish are not of the glass bowl variety, but seem to be more of a carp species, and will measure several inches and weigh as much as a half pound each. They are placed in live cars and brought here to be loaded in to express cars and shipped in tanks, alive, to New York markets, where they are sold to the retail and wholesale trade.

Up to this time the local trade has not indulged in the gold fish for a food product although it is said to be the same. The larger fish have the features of a carp, with the large scales but a decided difference in the coloring. These fish are highly colored in yellow and gold shades, with a little sprinkling of red which makes them very attractive.

Won't Grow in Jars. It is said that some of these fish have been placed in glass jars, and held for some time, but that they did not take on additional size.

Charles Klingheil of the United States hatcheries here, is of the opinion that these fish came from the aquariums of Belle Isle and Detroit during the flood times of 1913, and that during these last seven years have multiplied until the shallow waters of this vicinity have become inhabited by millions of fish.

As the gold fish are adapted to the warmer waters, they have found the marshes of this section desirable quarters for their summer maneuvers, and during the winter months they seek the deeper waters of the Portage river, where they are protected from the ice and the freezing which would confront them in the marshes.

OWNS LONGEST FINGER NAILS IN THE WORLD

He is Sun Ya Noh and he lives on the island of Formosa. The Chinese in Formosa pride themselves on the length of their finger nails. In order to protect the nails special nail gloves are worn. The long nails signify the fact that the wearer belongs to the aristocratic class and has performed no manual labor.

Women's Hosiery Prices on Decline. The cost of women's silk hosiery, priced by manufacturers last spring at $2.75 a dozen, has dropped to $1.50. Merino stockings, during the same period, have been reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 at the mills.

Goodness Always Influential. On such a woman of the household, one can really be assured, peace, pure and good, without the need of being told. For it is without consciously being helped and comforted by the very existence of that goodness—Philosophy.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

SAD SEA CRAB

"I'm a sad sea crab," said the sea crab. "Not because I've anything to be sad about, but just because I'm sad."

"If you asked me what it meant to be sad, I wouldn't know, for I don't know the difference between being sad and being glad."

"I don't know what words mean, and I don't care. So I suppose I would be speaking the truth just as much if I said I was glad."

"If it would sound very confusing if I said one moment that I was sad and the next that I was glad. It is better for me to say I am sad, and be done with it. And besides I look sad. I have a very mournful face—a face that looks so mournful that it almost makes you laugh."

"Usually no one laughs when a mournful face is seen, but there is something rather ridiculous about my expression."

"In the first place I have a large shell covering, and inside, or rather, if you should turn me upside down, which I don't care particularly about, however, you will find that I am full of legs and claws and all sorts of things which make me go and stay, and in fact which make me live."

"You see, I've never been to school, so I am not very good about telling you of myself."

"I would be better if only I had gone to school, but they have no school for crabs—none that I have ever heard of, at any rate; and if I should go I would doubtless make the whole school weep, looking at my sad face."

"And if they all wept they would begin to wade in tears and then swim in tears and then die in tears, and then be drowned by tears."

"That's a sad thought of mine, isn't it?"

"Of course they might laugh at my face, for, as I say, it is a funny looking face for all its sadness."

"But if they laughed at my face it would be just as bad, for they would never do any work or learn anything, if they were laughing all the time."

"I have two little things called eyes—and I can see and feel my way along, too—they're useful—right in the outside part of my shell. My tail is long and rather spiked at the end."

"It comes from my shell. I thought you might think it came from my grandfather, and it did, too, in a way. There I am trying to explain things to you, and I get all mixed up myself."

"It is really a dreadful thing, in a way, to be a crab—no one can understand unless they are crabs themselves.

Back in the Water.

"I have lots of legs. That's nice, I suppose. Of course others mightn't want lots of legs and then it wouldn't be nice."

"There always seems to be two ways of looking at a question. I've been up on the beach, and people have looked at me and then I was put back in the water. I was dropped over from a boat."

"That was all right. For I was dropped into the water. And I like the water, as you can imagine. A sea crab would be apt to like the water."

"There is the soft-shelled crab. He has a little shell and little legs, and there are many funny parts to him under his shell."

"He was found on the beach one day, and then a kind person put him back in the water."

"He might have been eaten, but he wasn't. Well, he looked very grateful in the water. Ah, so, there I go and make another mistake."

"I meant to say that he looked grateful. Yes, he was grateful, and he swam off with a grateful expression on his face."

"How absurd I talk. I talk of his grateful expression and my sad one."

"Truly a sea crab is not so bright in conversation. But I'll suggest that some one catch that soft-shelled crab and have him for supper some day, or he might talk, too, and that would be as bad, if not worse, than my talk. And he wouldn't care much if we were caught; we're foolish crabs, that's all."

"I thank you."

"The Wise Landlord."

"I notice that you advertise 'children preferred' when you have a house to rent."

"Yes, I'm looking for permanent tenants, and I've found out that folks with children are on glad to find a home to live in that once they get in they hang onto it."

"The Worried Neighbor."

Edith visited the new arrival at my home, and she said that as a surprise she had brought a box of surprises, and that the doctor brought it up. Before Edith reached home, she saw a signpost and cried out, in the amazement of surprise: "Pardon, pardon, drug use, drug use."—Edith.

BRITAIN PLANS TO HONOR DEAD

Will Spend $15,000,000 for Memorials for Soldiers.

BEAUTY SPOTS ARE ACQUIRED

Stone Crosses Will Record Names of Dead in Villages and Hospitals Will Be Founded in Large Cities—Funds Created for Relief of Dependents of Those Who Were Crippled or Killed—Parks Planned in Some Places.

The London Daily Mail has been writing to local authorities throughout England and Wales for particulars of war memorials to be erected in their districts. In general, stone crosses with the names of the dead will stand in every village, while large towns may found hospitals or lay out parks. Particulars of 226 places where memorials are to be erected have been received.

Of these, 72 have not yet decided what form the memorial is to take.

To this total must be added the amount to be spent in towns that have not yet decided on the form of memorial, and the cost of the shrines and monuments which have been erected in almost every church and chapel throughout the land. It is a fair estimate that at least $15,000,000 is being spent on war memorials in England and Wales alone.

$5,000,000 to Hospitals. With memories of the suffering caused by the war, it is not unusual that many towns have chosen the building of new hospitals or the extension of existing ones as the best of memorials. In the list collected 41 towns and villages out of 254 are devoting more than $4,000,000 to hospitals. They range from great new hospitals in Blackburn and Islington to small cottage hospitals in little market towns—the public spirit and generosity of the latter being, on the whole, more remarkable than in great cities.

There are numerous parks and public halls, and several instances in which funds have been created for the relief of dependents of those who were crippled or killed. Clubs for ex-servicemen are in some cases being built as memorials, and in others cottage homes and almshouses for widows and children of the dead.

Reproductions of the Cenotaph erected in Whitehall abound, and another popular form of memorial is the Stone of Remembrance, similar to that erected at the entrance to British war cemeteries in France. For the rest there are hundreds of crosses of all kinds, winged figures of Victory, obelisks and other stone columns. Islington, Blackburn and Woolwich each propose to spend $500,000 on new hospitals, and the last named borough already has collected more than $350,000 of the required amount.

Beauty Spots Acquired.

Opportunity has been taken in many cases of acquiring famous beauty spots as public parks. Coventry has been specially fortunate in this respect. Bideford has acquired Chudleigh fort and grounds; Clitheroe has purchased Clitheroe Castle, and Lord Coudray has presented to Colchester the famous local castle as a memorial, with $50,000 for improving the approaches and maintaining the fabric. Carlisle, as a memorial for all the men of Cumberland and Westmorland who fell in the war, has acquired a magnificent park of ninety acres, and is building a large new bridge as a better approach to it.

One of the most original and most beautiful memorials will be at Leicester, where $100,000 is being spent in laying out avenue of lime trees in the plan of a cathedral church, consisting of nave, aisles and transepts, with an apse at the east end. At the west, looking east, will be the cenotaph, and at the crossing, in a circle of stone walling, on which will be inscribed the names of Leicester's dead, will be the great war stone, a monolith altar, with the phrase: "Their names live for evermore." Paved paths will accentuate the plan and lead to the monuments. The designer of this unique memorial is Sir Edwin L. Lutyens.

EXTRA FAT CAUSES DEATH

"Sacramento Joe" Was to Undergo Operation to Remove 100 Pounds.

While being made ready for an operation to remove 100 pounds of fat in order to prolong his life, Joseph R. Krebs, known throughout California as "Sacramento Joe," died in Sacramento, Cal.

Krebs, who weighed about 600 pounds at the time of his death, was troubled with a disease when he was weighing near 600 pounds, but recently, because of his rapidly increasing obesity, had spent about 20 hours a day sleeping.

French Flyer Made Record Landing.

A world's record for landing at a given spot has been made by the French aviator, Fernand. The flyer descended to a height of 1,000 feet and came down within nine feet of the spot indicated.

Workers Agree to Cut in Wages.

Employees of a large brick company at Birmingham, Ill., have agreed to an 18 per cent. wage reduction, on condition that the company reduce the price of bricks 25 per cent.

Knowledge in Vague in Japan.

Knowledge is both in water in Japan and a valuable feature of any Japanese town toward evening in the West, as seen from the water along, surrounding himself with his peculiar wisdom, in search of work, which he did not want to do.

"KNICK" ACQUIRES ALBANY ARGUS

Announcement was made in this morning's Albany Knickerbocker Press that negotiations have been completed whereby that paper will take over the name and good will of the Albany Argus, the only other morning paper in Albany. The transaction involves only the title of the name of the newspaper and the good will, there being no transfer of physical property, or of the Argus Company's book and job printing plant.

The Albany Argus was established in 1813 by Jesse Buell, staunch advocate of James Madison as president, and Daniel Tompkins as governor of New York. There is a saying in journalistic circles that has lived for years, that the Argus "made governors and presidents." If that is an exaggeration, it can be truthfully said that it helped to make them. Jesse Buell, its founder, was at one time judge of the court of common pleas of Ulster county. Originally the Argus was a Republican paper, but in 1831 under the regime of Calvert Cass, it became a Democratic organ.

The Knickerbocker Press was founded in 1842 by Hugh Hastings. In 1910 it came under the leadership of the late Judge Lynn J. Arnold.

The last issue of the Argus as a separate paper will be Friday, January 14.

The Right Way to Read.

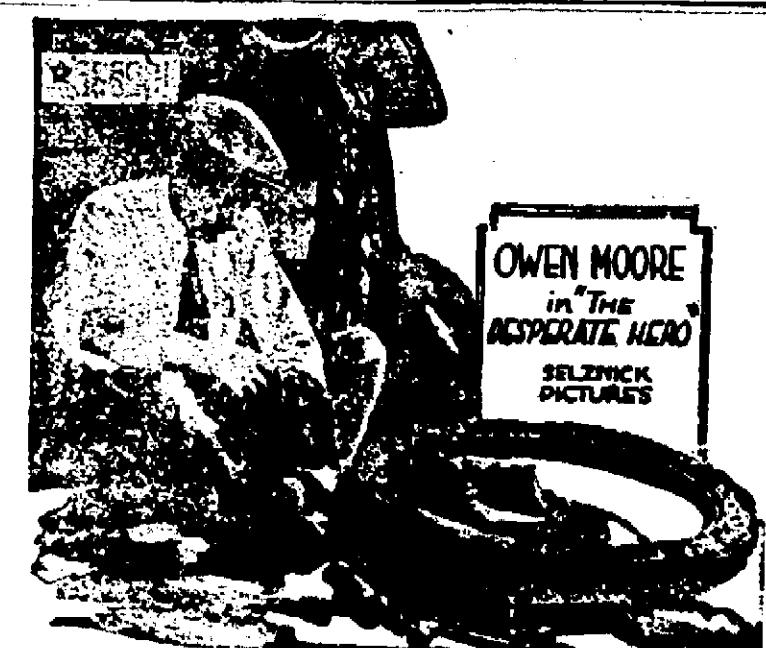

The only way to read with any efficiency is to read so heartily that dinner time comes two hours before you expected it. To sit with your feet before you and hear the ceaseless ticking that save the capital, and to see with your own eyes the Carthaginian soldiers gathering up the rings of the Roman knights after the battle of Cannae, and heaping them into bushels; and to be so intimately present at the actions you are reading of that when anyone knocks at the door it will take you two or three seconds to determine whether you are in your own study or in the plains of Lombardy looking at Hannibal's weather-beaten face—that is the only kind of study that is not useless.—Sydney Smith.

Meaning of Feverish Dream.

To dream you have a fever signifies that you will excite the envy of your friends; also difficulties with your lover.

Atmospheric Action.
The atmosphere of the earth acts very much in the same way as does the glass of a greenhouse—it allows the rays of the sun to pass through, but imprisons the heat. Thus it is cooler on the top of a mountain than at the sea level, because, though the mountain top is nearer the sun, the atmosphere is much less dense.

LURED TO DEN BY TIMID GIRL

Damsel in Distress Leads Good Samaritans Into Clutches of Robbers.

SIX VICTIMS NICKED

One After Another They Are Stripped of Valuables, Bound and Gagged, Girl Goes Out for Other Easy Marks.

Chicago.—Michael Zacks assumed the role of Good Samaritan early Sunday morning toward a timid dame in distress. He was "neering his house at 1423 North LaSalle street."

"Oh," she ventured hesitantly. "I have lost my way. I—I" a shapely tear fell from a lustrous eye. Her poke bonnet was quite new.

"Don't cry, little girl," and Mr. Zacks' strong, manly arm supported the shivering figure. "I will protect you. Where do you wish to go?"

"I want 1433 North LaSalle street," she sobbed.

"Why, why! That's just ten doors from here," and Mr. Zacks guided her to the address and assisted her up the stairway to the entrance.

The Lady Pulls a Gun.
"And now," she smiled, "you can go inside with me, or I'll fill you full of lead."

A husky revolver prodded Mr. Zacks into complying. She ushered him into a room with a four-poster bed. He was received with open arms by two men.

They gagged him, bound his arms and legs, then tied him to a bed post. Mr. Zacks gazed about to discover each of the other three posts held a man. He yielded $20, a gold watch and a diamond stickpin.

The lady vanished. Mr. Zacks waited patiently. Pretty soon she reappeared with a fifth stranger, who received a reception similar to his own. But there were not posts enough to go round, so he was tossed on the bed.

A sixth samaritan arrived in a few minutes. He must have completed the night's roundup, because after searching and binding and gagging him on the bed, the two men and the woman disappeared.

Zacks succeeded in loosening the gag. He called for help. The landlady of the rooming house responded. When she comprehended the situation she telephoned the East Chicago avenue police. Detective Sergeant Frank McE, William Moore and Ralph Bergau were assigned.

A Peepshow Holdup.

About this time the peepshow of Gust Custer, 224 West Chicago avenue, was held up by three men. The three detectives, investigating, later found three men and a woman in a restaurant. They said they were Victor Birt, 2117 Herndon avenue; William Meyers, 1818 Elston avenue; Anton Schneider, 2225 Lincoln avenue; and Elsie Oldenburg, 2722 Lincoln avenue.

Custer's peepshow, which he did not know the other men, Miss Oldenburg was not held.

BOY HOLDS UP PAWNBROKER

Takes All Money in Cash Drawer Rather Than Small Sum Through Pawnshop.

Los Angeles.—A youth, with collar turned up and cap pulled down, walked into a pawnshop here and wanted to know what the proprietor would give him on his gun. The pawnbroker said he must see the weapon first.

"Here it is," said the youth, and handed it against the pawnbroker's chest. "It ought to be worth the money in the register," it was.

ALL WRONG ON OLD AGE PROBLEM, SAYS SCIENTIST

Study of Subject Has Started From the Wrong End, According to Rocasolano.

Everybody hitherto has gone wrong in investigating the problem of old age and decay because the study of the subject has started from the wrong end, according to a Spanish scientist, A. de Gregorio Rocasolano.

He says scientists began by investigating old age in man and in the higher organisms, which might be compared to the study of mathematics, beginning with the differential calculus.

He argued that at present it was possible to study scientifically the advent of old age and the conclusion would be reached that there is no solution of continuity between inert matter and live matter. Modern biological investigations proved, he said, that form was not the base of life. The cells, he declared, are heterogeneous chemical systems, which are not the living form, but live matter. In the same way as the atom is the smallest possible mass which can enter into chemical combinations, the cell is the smallest possible quantity of live matter that can be identified, but is itself composed of living units. He concluded the difference between dead and live matter is not chemical, but physico-chemical.

GREAT ARMY OF WORKERS

Uncle Sam Employed One Person in Every 159 in Country.

One person out of every 159 in the United States was on the government payroll last July, according to the annual report of the civil service commission.

The total number of civil service employees last July, the commission announced, was 691,116, and the government was using them in 1,700 different kinds and grades of work. There were nearly 1,000,000 government employees at the height of the World war, the commission said, and added that before the war figures of 490,000 employees, in 1916, probably never again will be reached.

A tabulation of the great army of government workers fixes the average age at 25.4 years and the average salary at $1,176 a year, exclusive of the $240 annual bonus.

OPERATES ON BABY

Infant Just Born Recovers From Paralysis.

What is believed to be a record in medical annals of Pennsylvania was established at Bloomsburg when an operation was performed on an infant thirty minutes old.

The child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan was afflicted with paralysis of the left side at birth. The attending physician decided that an immediate operation might correct the trouble. A piece of the skull was raised and pressure relieved, causing an end of the paralytic condition. The baby rallied from the operation and it is believed will live and be healthy.

MAY PIPE COAL FROM MINE

New York City Considering Transporting Fuel From Pennsylvania.

The carrying of coal from the anthracite mining regions in Pennsylvania to New York city through two 14-inch pipes by water pressure is being considered by New York officials.

The plan was submitted by Richard A. Feltner, a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, who explained that between New York city and Scranton, Pa., there is a fall in elevation of about 2,000 feet. He asserted 2,000,000 tons of coal could be brought through the pipes every year, which would supply the city's needs.

An Extraneous Dream.

STRANGE MALADY SWEEPING HAITI

Doctors Unable to Discover the Source of Most Baffling and Fatal of Diseases.

WHITE POPULATION IMMUNE

Ailment That Kills 20,000 Natives Every Year Starts in the Feet and Spreads Upward, the Body Becoming Swollen.

Port-au-Prince, Haiti.—The American occupation of Haiti has served to direct medical research into one of the most baffling and perhaps fatal maladies known to modern medicine.

Haiti is a land of 2,000,000 people. The most conservative estimate, based on 12 months of historical research into Haiti's mysterious disease, is that a million Haitians have succumbed to the malady in the last 50 years. Here where native productivity is truly synonymous with extravagant tropical verdure, a death rate of 20,000 a year, or nearly 1,700 a month, has not served to worry the nationals.

For the last five years American medical officers have noticed that lower caste Haitians, sent to prison, develop an alarming condition there and die at a rate of from 50 to 60 per cent of those affected.

Only during the last 12 months have the causes and effects of these alarming deaths been studied and recognized as a separate disease. The discovery was made a year ago by Dr. W. L. Mann, surgeon of the United States navy, a native of Austin, Tex., whose naval rank is that of lieutenant commander, supervising the entire medical department of the American-controlled Gendarmerie d'Haiti.

Dr. Mann is a graduate of Harvard medical school, holder of several college degrees and has spent the major part of his time in tropical and sub-tropical countries. His writings on preventive medicine and tropical disease and long experience equipped him to point out this mysterious disease soon after his arrival in Haiti.

Cause Undetermined.

Aided by the medical officers of the gendarmerie in an intensive research, Dr. Mann told the New York Tribune correspondent here that nothing has developed which may definitely determine the cause of the disease, which if ascertained and measures taken to combat would result in the saving of possibly more than 20,000 lives annually.

The disease has three manifestations. One of the most notable symptoms is swelling of certain parts of the body. The flesh becomes waterlogged or "dropsical." It usually begins in the feet and spreads upward. Another form is the dry or emaciated type. The patient shows marked emaciation and debilities almost to skin and bones. Often dropsical changes to dry and vice versa. It is not unusual to see a patient almost a living skeleton, then develop a wet condition, and with the retention of fluid in the body gain 20 or 30 pounds in a few days and become so swollen that recognition of his features is difficult.

One of the mysteries of the disease is that women seldom, if ever, contract it. One medical officer in Haiti has observed more than 1,000 cases without finding a single case among females. At one time during Doctor Mann's investigations women were supposed to be entirely immune. Finally three cases among women developed at the same dwelling place. This combination of circumstances suggested a disease of an infectious nature.

Disease Appears Suddenly.

A third manifestation of the malady is that which suggests plague. From 5 to 25 per cent of the fatalities take place in persons who do not complain of any symptoms. A person will appear in perfect health; then, without warning, fall in a faint and gradually expire.

Though the grouping of Haitian negroes in prisons called Doctor Mann's attention to the disease, he is reasonably certain that it is not due to confinement, as in some prisons the malady is entirely absent. Before the advent of Americans in Haiti the prisoners were quarantined where prisoners were thrown to subsist on food smuggled in by relatives or starve. Today, under American supervision, the prisoners are models of cleanliness, but sanitation has not served to eradicate the mysterious disease. Infection almost has been eliminated by research as the cause. Imprisonment possibly aids the malady, but it is not entirely responsible, as numerous natives who never saw a prison succumb. Research brought the possible cause to the question of faulty diet, especially in prisons. On this question Doctor Mann was noncommittal. As he expressed it: "The evidence accumulated up to the present date regarding diet as a factor in contracting and maintaining the disease is inconclusive. Diet may or may not be a factor, and I am not prepared to express a definite opinion on this subject."

Many Leads Developed.

Dr. Mann's researches have developed many leads, but when no theory seems to have given the greatest encouragement it is destroyed.

Prevents Her Young.

The red hot wife, when occasion calls for it, give vent to a kind of high-pitched scream, that when heard at night is quite awe-inspiring, was the American woman's reaction. This is its purpose, as it often serves as a protection for the young.

SOVIET MOVEMENT GAINS IN INDIA

Riots Spread—British Arrest 600 At One Place—Jail Stuffed—Big Land Owners Start Trouble By Trying To Break Up Societies.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Alibabad India, Jan. 12.—Rioting in the provinces of Agra and Oudh is spreading and many persons have been killed. Six hundred arrests have been made in the Agra district. A trainload of armed police have been rushed to the scene and two companies of troops from Lucknow.

Three hundred civilians tried to storm the jail at Ita Bar. The troops fired, killing three and wounding seven.

The troops fired upon a mob attacking the Purnagandhar, killing four.

The disturbances began when the big land owners attempted to break up the soviets which had been established in numerous villages. The soviet movement has been growing and the membership is estimated at 100,000.

Agents of the Russian Bolsheviks have been active in India for some time, spreading propaganda and establishing local soviets. One of the conditions of the proposed British trade agreement with Moscow is that the Russians cease disseminating Red propaganda in India.

EXCITEMENT OVER PORCUPINE.

Animal Keeps Highland Dugout Out of Own Store.

Highland, Jan. 12.—The experience of being held up in his own place of business by a porcupine which was very much alive, fell to George P. Muller, druggist, here, tonight. Schepinski and brothers, who have spent the past two weeks trapping foxes at Sundown in the Catskills brought a live porcupine back with them in addition to the other game. The animal was placed in a cage and put on exhibition in the window of Mr. Muller's pharmacy. Some time Saturday night Mr. Porcupine escaped from his prison and started on a tour of investigation of the store.

When Mr. Muller appeared to open the store on Sunday morning he was greeted at the door by the animal which was held at bay for some time until a suitable landing net could be rushed to the scene. With the aid of the net and several men the animal was recaptured and returned to the confines of the cage.

Lowell Club.

The Lowell Club met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. N. Fossenden on Washington avenue. Following the roll call of "One Minute quotations from the poetry of Wilfred Wilson Gibson," Mrs. Sleight gave in the form of a paper, a critical review of "Alfred Noyes's Poetry" that was both interesting and informing. This was followed by a reading from "The Growth of Love," by Robert Bridges, given by Mrs. Delaplaine. A second reading, from "The Everlasting Mercy," by John Masefield, was given by Mrs. Lewis, both readings being exceedingly enjoyable. The afternoon's program closed with an open discussion of the work of these modern English poets. The club voted to heartily cooperate with the Federation of Women's Clubs in the movement to bring Charles Rann Kennedy and wife to Kingston to give readings, especially from Mr. Kennedy's "Secret in the House," also in the proposition to secure Bruce Bennett for a course of four literary lectures. Next week the club will meet with Mrs. Baragwanath.

BLISS SAYS OTHERS ARE READY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 12.—General Tasker H. Bliss, who as military member of the American peace commission in Paris had extraordinary opportunity to learn the views of leading world statesmen, appeared before the house committee on naval affairs and declared that the five great powers of the earth are ready and are willing to enter into an agreement to reduce armament. All that is needed, Bliss said, is for some one to initiate the steps.

"Some cessation of the present building and arming is absolutely necessary," Bliss declared, "for our civilization cannot stand the present pace."

This view was also held by Marshal Foch and other great military figures, the general said.

Farrell Grandest Man To Wife.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 12.—Lieutenant Stephen Farrell's attack upon Lieutenant Walter Hinton at Mattie was defended today by Mrs. Anna L. Farrell, wife of the aviator. "Mr. Farrell was defending his character when he struck Mr. Hinton and I think he was right," said Mrs. Farrell. "Everyone who is acquainted with my husband knows he is the grandest man in God's whole world. He is a man of fine qualities and high ideals and is most conscientious. He trusts every one and expects the others to trust him and to play fair with him."

Lloyd-George May Not Attend.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 12.—Premier Lloyd-George may not attend the forthcoming inter-allied conference in Paris owing to the pressure of domestic affairs, it was learned this afternoon. The foreign office is much agitated over this possibility, fearing another misunderstanding with France if the British premier should remain away. It is feared that France will feel slighted if Mr. Lloyd-George absents himself.

Ex-Haitian Aggie Lost.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Holland, Jan. 12.—The condition of the ex-Haitian Aggie, who was shot in the chest, was officially announced. She is suffering from a heart ailment and has been treated at death's door several times.

Washington, Jan. 12.—George Morris was today announced as the member of the Washington League, Russell Club for the season of 1921.

LEGISLATURE RESUMES TONIGHT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12.—The legislature, reconvening tonight, will receive part of the Republican legislative program. Two measures, one asking for a state enforcement act which would place equal responsibility on federal, state and local officers for the enforcement of prohibition, and the other asking congress to discontinue federal operation of barges on the state canals, will be sent in by Governor Miller.

Announcement of committee appointments will permit organization and enable the legislature to get actively to work.

It is doubtful whether the prohibition enforcement bill will be ready for introduction tonight but its early appearance is looked for.

With the announcement of the personnel of the assembly judiciary committee, demands by some upstate legislators that the three socialist assemblymen be again ousted, are expected to receive early consideration.

The senate finance committee tomorrow is expected to approve the governor's appointment of Charles L. Cadie of Rochester as superintendent of public works, affecting a change in administration of the department.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Jan. 12.—The mixed conditions in the stock market including the disappearance of the premium on Crucible Steel and the large supply of Mexican Petroleum were reflected in a renewal of aggressive bear operations in the stock market at the opening today when room traders offered stocks at concessions and outside selling of the same character helped along declines in the first fifteen minutes. There was no indication of a supply of long stocks, however, at the lower levels established, the demand continuing good and the reaction was chiefly important in permitting continued accumulation of stocks by interests that have been identified with the upward movement since the last week of the old year. Crucible Steel started with a gain of 1 point to 197 and then dropped to 192 1/2, and Mexican Petroleum fell to 156 1/2. Republic Steel made an opening gain of 1 1/2 to 79 1/2, which was lost in the next few minutes. Baldwin sold down 1/2 to 91 1/2 and Bethlehem Steel B, lost 1 1/2 to 59 1/2. Railroad stocks were without a steady demand and also were lower. Steel Common yielded 1/2 to 83 1/2.

Speculative interest was diverted to the railroad group during the forenoon, those issues being in brisk demand at advancing prices. Crucible Steel was under pressure, falling to 191 1/2. Baldwin Locomotive after advancing to 92 1/2 dropped to 91 1/2. Atlantic Gulf had a quick rebound from its low of 68, selling up to 75 1/2. The oil stocks were fairly well held after early declines.

The market closed irregular; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

HINTON-FARRELL FEUD ABATES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Mattie, Ont., Jan. 12.—The dove of peace fluttered into Mattie today and the hostility which developed between Lieutenant Stephen Farrell and Lieutenant Walter Hinton seemed to have passed away. As the men were busy this afternoon preparing for their departure, nothing was said about the blow which Farrell had landed on Hinton's jaw yesterday.

Hinton addressed Farrell as "Steve" and the latter replied in terms more friendly and polite than he had used yesterday afternoon in his conversation with Hinton.

A good night's sleep and the hearty food had restored the men's spirits. It was recognized that Farrell's outburst was due to overwrought nerves as well as to anger. None of them would discuss the incident and said they did not want to hear any mention of it from others.

PORT EWE.

Port Ewen, Jan. 12.—A rapid picturesque trip around the world showing post-war conditions in both Europe and the Orient is afforded in the new stereoscopic lecture which has just been released and will be shown at the Methodist Episcopal Church Thursday evening, January 20, at 7:30 o'clock on "The Century at Work in the Foreign Field." This lecture is given under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Illustrated hymns, Mrs. S. P. Tinkle will recite and a social time will be spent after the lecture in the chapel.

The Misses Sarah and Elizabeth Guinan of New York city are spending a few days at their home on Hudson street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Terpening of New Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Hotelling of Salem street spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe on Main street.

Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, will meet in their castle hall Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A party of friends from Kingston surprised Mrs. Charles Howe at her home on Main street, Tuesday and gave her a banderchief shower. Those present were Mrs. Henry Terpening, Mrs. Peter Whitaker, Mrs. Nicholas Krause, Mrs. Edward Benson, Mrs. Charles O. Voight, Mrs. W. H. Woolhouser, Mrs. Ralph Doy and Mrs. Fred Bodell. Dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

There will be mid-week service in the Methodist Chapel Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock conducted by the pastor. The Sunday school board of the Methodist Church will meet at the close of the mid-week service for the transaction of business. All teachers and officers are requested to be present.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Jerome Nathan of No. 28 Rogers street is in New York city today on business.

Vanderlyn Council, D. of A.

held one of its best meetings on Tuesday evening, when their deputy state councillor, Suzanne E. Decker, of Highland, made her official visit and installed the officers for the ensuing term. The reports given gave evidence of the high efficiency of the council. There were a few members of Imperial Council of Saggieters present. The deputy, after installing gave a talk on the work.

INDIA'S MILLIONS OF "GODS"

Country Is Certainly Deserving of Its Appellation, "The Mother of Religions."

St. Simeon Stylites, the noted Syrian ascetic, is the first of whom we have record of the many thousands of religious enthusiasts who have believed in punishing the body that the soul may be raised nearer heaven. St. Simeon, it is recorded, passed the last 30 years of his life sitting for the most part of the time upon a high stone pillar, set up in the ground, near Antioch, enduring the scorching heat by day and the biting frost by night that he might thus overcome evil passions and be better fitted for heaven.

Enthusiastic followers today of the tenets of St. Simeon are the Sadhus of India, says Grit. While the practice of doing penance to earn merit is prevalent in other countries, there is no land where it is so universal, or where it is carried to such a degree of physical suffering as in India. Every form of torture that can be applied to the human frame is witnessed in the land of the Sadhus.

India, that "land of mysticism and romance" has so great a variety of religious faiths as to have received the name "The Mother of Religions." The Hindus have more than 30,000 gods, and their worshippers wear upon their foreheads distinctive "red marks" to show which god they follow. Out of these religious beliefs have come the various castes, the caste of India today, the giant hand that stays the wheels of progress.

PAID-UP MEMBERSHIP COUNTY

Delegates to Conventions Are Chosen on the Basis of Number in Each Standing.

Figures at National headquarters of the American Legion show a vast number of posts throughout the country have enrolled considerably in excess of their present actual paid-up membership. Delegates from posts to the state conventions, and from states to the national convention are chosen on the basis of paid-up membership, without regard to enrollment.

The state legislature of Massachusetts has enacted a law prohibiting the wearing of the Legion insignia by any person who is not a member of the organization, which is construed as barring those whose membership has been allowed to lapse, from enjoying this privilege. Individual Legionnaires are being urged to assist in preventing the wearing of the Legion badge by persons who are not paid-up Legion members.

A few state conventions already have been held. The dates of the others, and places where held, are given in the following list:

- Indiana, at Vincennes, June 28 and 29.
- Montana, at Livingston, June 28 and 29.
- Wisconsin, at Green Bay, June 29 and 30.
- Nevada, at Lovelock, July 3.
- Rhode Island at Newport, July 23 and 24.
- Oregon, at Astoria, July 30 and 31.
- Wyoming, at Sheridan, August 3, 4 and 5.
- Arkansas, at Helena, August 16 and 17.
- Minnesota, at Duluth, August 16 and 17.
- Connecticut, at Bridgeport, August 20 and 21.
- Louisiana, at New Iberia, August 20, 21 and enterprise.

They Resist Decay.

The Northwest Indians nearly always made their totem poles out of western red cedar, but this choice was probably due more to the fact that the wood is easy to work and extensively durable, rather than to its fragrance, says the American Forestry

Magazine of Washington. It may be taken as a very good general rule that woods that are scented are resistant to decay and insect attack, and have good cabinet qualities.

BOYS' ATHLETIC MEET FEB. 12

Plans have been completed for the holding of the annual indoor athletic meet for the public school boys at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday, February 12. In the past, this athletic event has been held on New Year's day, but due to a number of different circumstances it was necessary this year to postpone it until the latter date.

The committee in charge (composed of S. A. Dillingham, Y. M. C. A. Physical Director, A. W. Hulley, School Supervisor of Physical Education, Prof. Van Valkenburgh of School No. 1, Prof. Meagher of School No. 5 and Prof. Garrison of School No. 8), have arranged that the event this year will be the same as in the past, namely, the potato race, standing broad jump, running high jump, relay race and the tug of war.

The school boys of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades have been looking forward for over a year to competition in this meet. In the past years there have been hundreds of school boy competitors, and many spectators. The main rivalry will be for the possession of the large silver cup which goes to the winning team for a year's possession but becomes permanent property after having been won by the same school for three years. In 1919, School No. 4 won the cup, and in 1920, School No. 8 was the victor. This year the winner is assured that it will be a hard task to beat out these two schools as well as the many others competing. Inasmuch as the points for the cup are calculated with the percentage of pupils competing as a factor, each school in this way has a fair chance to win.

Other prizes, ribbons for first, second and third place in each event are offered, as well as a silver medal to the boy making the most points in the entire meet and three ribbons for the next honor boys making the second, third and fourth highest number of points.

This event will be part of the athletic program arranged at the Y. M. C. A. on Lincoln's birthday and a large crowd is anticipated.

Daniels Awaits Report.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 12.—Whether the encounter between Lieutenant Farrell and Lieutenant Hinton, the naval balloonists lost in Canada, will be made the subject of an investigation depends upon the decision made by Secretary Daniels after he has received the complete report from the commanding officer at Rockaway. It was announced today Secretary Daniels characterized the incident as "most regrettable."

A C. E. Entertainment.

Friday evening, January 21, an entertainment will be given in the chapel of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. The program will consist of comic songs, religious solos, monologues, recitations and impersonations and a lecture entitled "The Conversion of an Actor." The entertainment will be given by a former vaudeville actor and the Rev. Andrew Hale Price, who is a well known church entertainer. He is assisted by Stephen Griffin, pianist, who will also render several selections.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE

Games To Be Played at Y. M. C. A. Thursday Night.

Everything is all set for some interesting games of basket ball in the Industrial Basket Ball League at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening. In the first game at 8 o'clock the fast Fessenden team will stack up against their old rivals, the West Shore Roadrunners. At present Managers Heard and Topper are urging their men on to make their best effort for this particular game. In the second set-to of the evening, the Fuller Powell team will try to defeat the U. S. Luce Mills team. It is understood that the latter team has been strengthened some.

For the past couple of games there has been some dissatisfaction among the players as a result of the managers allowing "fingers" to represent their team. As a result the physical committee of the Y. M. C. A., which is the ruling body over the Industrial League has notified the managers that players representing a firm must be bona fide employees of that firm. The standing of the teams to date follows:

West Shore		5	1	532
Fessenden		4	2	867
Herbert		3	2	800
Fuller-Powell		2	3	400
U. S. Luce Mills		0	5	000

Holy Cross Food Sale.

ULSTER SOCIETY DINNER FEB. 3

The fifth annual dinner of the Ulster County Society in the City of New York will take place at The Biltmore, Madison avenue and Forty-third street, New York, Thursday evening, February 3, at 8 o'clock.

In accordance with the custom so successfully observed at the society's dinners in the past, a reunion-reception will be held before the dinner is served, commencing at 7 o'clock.

Hon. William E. Cleary, member of congress, the honorary president, formerly of Ellenville many years ago, will preside. Among the speakers will be the Hon. Jacob A. Livingston of Brooklyn, formerly of Saugerties, the Hon. Frank White of New York, and the Rev. Michael J. Larkin of New York, formerly of Rondout.

NEED SNOW AND COLD WEATHER

A snow storm followed by some cold weather is the hope of Hudson river ice men. The river at Kingston Point was fast this morning again, but the action of the tide during the day broke up the ice. The floating ice in the river runs from an inch to four inches in thickness, and ice men say that snow will help bind the ice together. The cold nights have made ice but not thick enough to hold it together when the tide runs in and out of the river.

On the small ponds and streams ice runs from a few inches to 8 inches in thickness.

There is hardly any navigation to speak of in the Hudson river at this time aside from the trips of the Central Hudson Line steamer Poughkeepsie between this port and New York, and the daily trips of the Ferry Transport. The Skillypot and the tug Rob are the only two boats in commission in the Rondout creek.

PORT EWEN.

There will be a meeting of the Dorcas Society Friday evening at the home of Mrs. John Groves. Mrs. Groves and Mrs. Edward Houting will be the hostesses of the evening.

The mid-week prayer service will be held in the Reformed Church on Thursday evening at 7:45. The subject for the meeting will be the second chapter of Dr. Sell's book, Bible Study by Doctrines, with the theme, "How We Know There is a God." All are cordially welcomed to this meeting.

The Reformed Church is planning to hold a church birthday party and social on the evening of February 22, Washington's birthday. All members and friends of the church are asked to keep this date open for the party.

Rondout Presbyterian Church.

Tomorrow will be a busy day at the Rondout Presbyterian Church. In the afternoon the ladies will meet to sew on hospital garments and bedding for the National Tanager Hospital in China. The work will be in charge of the following chairmen: Sheets, Mrs. M. G. Holmes and Mrs. C. H. Bishop; comfort covers, Miss McCullough and Mrs. James Purdy; surgeons' gowns, Mrs. William McCullough, Mrs. Palmer Canfield and Mrs. John Rowland; infants' slips, Mrs. H. E. Brown and Mrs. C. R. O'Connor. The supper to which all the members of the church family are invited will be served from 6 to 6:30 and followed by the church school of missions from 7:30 to 8:30. Classes have been formed to study "The Near East, the Crossroads of the World," "The Church and the Community," and "Money The Acid Test." These classes are open to every one.

TO REMOVE TATTOO MARKS

Freem is by No Means Easy, Though Modern Science Has Shown It to Be Practicable.

Tattooing is the mechanical introduction of pigments under the skin and a very well-known process. The pigments employed are carbon, cinabar, carmine and indigo.

Most methods employed to remove these marks, says Science and Invention, are by a rectic and a destructive inflammation which will result in the formation of a crust, later cast off together with tattooed markings. One method is to reticulate the marks with a solution of 30 parts of zinc chloride and 40 parts of water. A mild inflammation will result; a crust forms and about a week later this falls off, leaving a scar which gradually heals. Later a repetition of this may be necessary. This may be done by the professional tattooer.

The second method is to tattoo again, making the pigments close together after the design has been removed with a concentrated solution of caustic. A stick of silver nitrate is then firmly drawn over the surface and after a period of several minutes it is then wiped off. This is far more effective than the first and less wasteful. Then after reticulation, pigments are applied from either of the above and the final result is a good one of removal.

HOT WATER ALWAYS AT HAND

Continuous Flow of Boiling Liquid and Steam From the Innumerable Geysers of Iceland.

The hot-water fountains of Iceland are on mounds averaging seven feet in height, the top of each of which forms the edge of a sort of basin. From these basins the steam of boiling water can be seen rising and the overflow of water is continuous. The contents of these basins is as clear as crystal and one can see to a great depth, while just below the surface are many wonderfully beautiful white incrustations, to obtain samples of which many a visitor to Iceland has burned his fingers. The petrifications caused by the boiling water streams from the geysers include birch and willow leaves, grass and rushes seemingly converted into marble.

At no time is it entirely safe to loiter in the vicinity of one of these bottomless basins, for the geyser has a way of spouting and gives no advance warning. Sometimes there will be a shoot of boiling water to a height of 15 feet, followed by a succession of jets. The highest shoot of which there is any record was 80 feet.

Occasionally a basin will for some unexplained reason become entirely empty, or will give forth a "steam shoot," which, in the form of a column of spray and vapor at least 60 feet in height, presents a really magnificent spectacle.
